

Job Opportunities: Native English Teachers for English & Sports-Oriented Courses (with Sports/Academic Focus)

Beijing Sport University

Email: wxydean@bsu.edu.cn

The School of International Education and Exchange of Beijing Sport University's is seeking experienced and passionate native English-speaking teachers (from USA, UK, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, etc.) to teach undergraduate English language courses and sports-related courses in English (e.g., Sports Journalism, Sports Sociology, Sports Management, Event Management, Olympic Studies). Candidates are also encouraged to participate in teaching and academic support for postgraduate students majoring Intercultural Communication and Exchange in Sports.

Responsibilities:

- Design and deliver effective and engaging English language courses and sports-related courses to undergraduates (6-10 regular teaching hours per week)
- Participate in teaching and academic support for postgraduate students majoring Intercultural Communication and Exchange in Sports (2-4 classroom hours per week).
- Develop lesson plans, materials, and assessments that align with the curriculum and meet the needs of individual students.
- Check students' assignments and provide regular feedback to students and maintain accurate records of their progress.
- Flexible office hours are required to offer extra tutorials to students in need (about 4 classroom hours per week).
- Organize and participate in extracurricular English learning activities for students.
- Participate in departmental meetings and professional development activities to enhance teaching skills and knowledge.
- Other post-related responsibilities (eg., organize or participate in seminars and faculty development training).

Requirements:

- No Criminal Record. Shall abide by the laws and regulations of the People's Republic of China.

- Proficient native English speaker from a recognized English-speaking country (USA, UK, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, etc.).
- Bachelor's degree or higher in Education, English, Linguistics, or sports-related fields.
- TESOL/TEFL/CELTA certification or equivalent.
- Familiarity with the latest teaching methods and technologies.
- Prior teaching experience is preferred.

We offer:

- Competitive salary and benefits package.
- Fully furnished on-campus apartment.
- Supportive and professional work environment.
- Opportunities for professional growth and development.
- Visa assistance with relocation. Assistance with work-related travel bookings.

If you are passionate about teaching English language courses and sports-related courses in English and want to make a difference in the lives of our students, please send your CV, cover letter, and a recent photo to us Email: wxydean@bsu.edu.cn . We look forward to hearing from you!